SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY
Chapter 4 – Management of Mine Action Programme

Gender and diversity

This study provides a critical assessment of the extent to which clusters collect and use SADD to inform programming and provides recommendations on how it can be used.

This is a tool that codes, on a 0-2 scale, whether or not a humanitarian project is designed well enough to ensure that women/girls and men/boys will benefit equally from it or that it will advance gender equality in another way.
Chapter 7 – Risk Education

- Gender and Mine Action Programme (GMAP). www.gmap.ch

Chapter 9 – Mine Action, Security and Development

All photos copyright GICHD except:

p 15, 20: Imperial War Museum, London
p 65: Cluster Munition Coalition
p 111: GMAP
p 124: BBC
p 132: HALO
p 137: MACCA
p 138: NPA
p 154, 155, 167: Sean Moorhouse
p 181: Johan Solberg
p 211: Julie Claveau